Disproves Of Measures That He Believes Are Bad For The State At Large.

PROPOSED LAWS WERE REJECTED

Coemploye Statute Which Becomes Effective Prohibits Contracts Relieving Corporations From Liability For Accidents.

Madison, Wis., July 3.—Gov. Davidson has vetoed three assembly bills and filed the veto messages with Chief Clerk Shaffer of the lower house. One of the bills vetoed is No. 1029A, providing that "no act of the legislature shall apply to or affect any suit, action, or proceeding pending at the time when such act takes effect."

The second bill vetoed is 1010A, providing that in the city of Milwaukee the signature and consent of one of the aldermen in the ward affected shall be sufficient in proceedings brought for the condemnation and closing of an alley or street.

The third bill falling under the displeasure of the governor is 914A, providing that sidewalks shall be laid upon "any street open to public travel upon which the grade for sidewalks shall have been duly established."

Coemploye Law in Effect

The new coemploye law passed by the present legislature entirely changing the doctrine of contributory negligence went into effect today. Under the new law the question of the degree of negligence must be submitted to the jury. If the jury finds that negligence of the company or its employe was greater than the negligence of the injured employe and contributory, the injured employe is entitled to recover and the negligence, if any, of the injured man is no bar to such recovery. No contract is permitted between employes and railroad companies which shall exempt a corporation from full liability under the act.

The law provides that if a resident of Wisconsin is injured in some other state, but while working for a railroad where the lines extend through Wisconsin, he may sue in this state.

MUCH INTEREST IN BURNS-SQUIRES "GO"

Much-Touted Australian Has Shown Up Well in Training and American Opponent Must Fight Well.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Calif., July 3.—Much interest is being taken in tomorrow's battle between Tommy Burns and Bill Squires, the much-touted Australian. It will give American ring-followers their first opportunity to size up the ability, gameness and cleverness of the Australian, who has been heard anywhere near as good as has been claimed the fight should be one well worth going far to see. Burns has established his reputation as a sturdy, enduring and aggressive fighter and can be counted on to make things interesting for the Australian. Since the latter's arrival in this country he has gained steadily in the estimation of the ring experts and is held especially high by those who have had an opportunity to see him train. The interest in the battle is indicated by the fact that at least $25,000 has already been wagered on the result.

NEGROES FRIGHTEN BERLIN RESIDENTS

Natives of Africa Are Uncommon in Germany and Members of "Exhibition Colony" Terrified.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, July 3.—At the Colonial exhibition now in progress in this city a great attraction is the negro village, the inhabitants of which hail from German possessions in the Dark Continent. They are somewhat uncertain and unattracted, and therefore kept under sharp control. Their curiosity to see the city after dark, however, is quite as pronounced as with many of their white brethren. Being overmastered by this curiosity, eighteen of the stalwart negroes, in scant draperies, broke out of the exhibition the other night and proceeded to have a good time. Black men are not familiar sights on the streets of Berlin, and their unexpected appearance singly and in groups at odd corners was terrifying to nervous persons whom they met. All night long the police were engaged in hunting down the inquisitive negroes, the last of whom, completely intoxicated, was found haranguing his police captors on the pleasures of freedom.

DOZEN INJURED AS TWO TROLLEYS MEET

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., July 3.—A dozen people were seriously injured and as many more slightly hurt in a collision between a trolley car and two cars of the Washington & Arlington Electric railway this morning. A rail passed entirely through the abdomen of a woman named William Mock. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of signals. Motorcar Mock died on his way to a hospital. It is believed three or four of the injured may succumb to their injuries. Nearly all the passengers were employed in Washington and are residents of Virginia and the suburban towns.

IS JOHNSON TO BE A CANDIDATE?

REPORT THAT WATTERSON IS TO BACK HIM.

IS TO BE HIS CHOICE

August Franke Visits Roosevelt—Wants Pardon for His Father Who Is in Prison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., July 3.—Is Governor Johnson of Minnesota the mysterious candidate that Col. Henry Watterson of Louisville declares would be a winner were he named by the democratic convention in 1908? In any event the belief is growing that "Marse Henry" has the governor of the great wheat state in mind. This belief is not finding foothold alone here, but according to Judge Humphrey of Louisville, who is here on business with the departments, it is generally considered in the Kentucky metropolis that Governor Johnson is the man on whom Bryan was made. Judge Humphrey says: "Governor Johnson, it is believed, comes up to the specifications laid down by Col. Watterson. He has a mustache and his geography accords. The Minnesota government ownership of railroads. But he is also said to be the possessor of a large and varied assortment of views on all the questions of the day. Perhaps if he could get as many votes as he has views he might be able to prove Col. Watterson a true prophet."

There is no doubt that Governor Johnson's activity is causing the democratic leaders considerable anxiety. His coming raid into the south, when he is to deliver an address at the unveiling of a monument on a historic battlefield, is looked upon as being a clever way of introducing himself to southern democrats. As a politician Governor Johnson measures large, and it may be predicted with all safety that he will say nothing on his southern tour that will give offense.

Visited Washington
August Franke, who is said to live at 1070 Jackson street, Dubuque, Ia., caused considerable excitement in the executive office at the White House one morning. A tall, brawny, broad-shouldered man, stalked into the waiting room and announced that the President had promised him one million dollars and that he wanted to collect it at once. He was immediately surrounded by guards, who engaged him in conversation and finally persuaded him to take a walk. When the police sergeants got through with their examination Franke was committed temporarily to the Government Hospital for the Insane.

Cheap Transportation.

In order to derive the full benefits of Secretary Root's forthcoming visit to Mexico, the states of the Mississippi Valley will be compelled to have a cheaper and more effective system of transportation than at present is afforded by the railroads, which are overtaxed. Already the growing trade with the South and Central American republics is calling for a rapid and complete extension of the country's navigable river system and the business interests of the United States are realizing that the country's failure to press this work of development is proving extremely costly at the present time. The National Rivers and Harbors Congress stands as the chief sponsor for this sentiment and is gathering in its organization citizens and shippers, whether these last be individuals or firms, who believe that the time has come for a complete reform in the pressing of this important work. Not until this country's great natural waterway system is developed can it hope to compete in the Latin-American markets of the Western Hemisphere with European competitors whose transportation charges to those markets are confined entirely to low water rates.

Wants Pardon.

Little Mary Wagner, of Michigan, has touched the heart of the President and her plaintive appeal may result in her step-father being pardoned from the Michigan state prison. The Department of Justice has the matter in charge and is investigating it. While it is probable that the question of a pardon is one that lies entirely with Michigan's governor, it is likely that any recommendations made by Attorney General Bonaparte will carry great weight. The case is that of John Allison, a bank robber, who escaped from the Michigan penitentiary after having served six years of a seventeen year sentence. He made his way to Winona and married a widow with one child. He did not tell her of his past until after their baby was born and shortly thereafter he was recognized and reimprisoned. The letter which the little step-daughter wrote to President Roosevelt reflects her belief in her step-father whom, she says, "is not a bad man and has been good to mamma and me."

TO CELEBRATE BEGINNING OF BIG IRRIGATION WORK

Legislature Of New Mexico Territory Has Authorized Three-Day Festival At Carlsbad.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Carlsbad, N. M., July 3.—During the next three days this place is to be the scene of a unique celebration to commemorate the beginning of government irrigation in New Mexico. The importance of the occasion to the people of New Mexico, and also to the residents of other large areas throughout the west and southwest, can only be appreciated when it is borne in mind that great tracts of land now of an arid or semi-arid character will soon be made to "blossom as the rose" through the medium of irrigation. The projects already under way will when completed add millions to the wealth and resources of the territory.

That New Mexico is fully alive to the significance of the work is evidenced by the fact that the celebration about to begin was authorized by the legislature, and the expense will be borne by the territorial treasury. Persons of prominence from all parts of the territory are to take part in the celebration, together with representatives from the Department of Interior and officials of the reclamation service from Washington.

The Carlsbad reclamation project was primarily undertaken by the government at the urgent request of the settlers to save their property and homes which were threatened with destruction by drought, as the result of a flood which washed away a portion of the Avalon dam, on which their canal system depended for its supply.

Acting upon the advice of eminent consulting engineers a core wall of reinforced concrete was built from bed rock to the crest of the dam. There is no longer any possibility of the structure being washed away by a flood. On the lower side of the dam is a rock fill which would prevent erosion in case flood water should sweep over the dam. The reinforced concrete conduit which was constructed across the Pecos river by the former owners of the system has been strengthened and the foundation carried to bed rock.

Across Dark canyon is a siphon, circular in form, and of sufficient size for a six-foot man to walk through standing upright. The canal has been widened and deepened and built on scientific principles, so as to carry the greatest amount of water with the least excavation. This work when completed will cost more than $600,000 and will supply 25,000 acres with water.

Over in the Mesilla valley there is nearing completion a 600-foot diversion dam for the purpose of supplying water to one unit of the Rio Grande project, the Leasburg diversion. The headworks will be connected with the old Las Cruces system by a canal six miles long. Before this project is finished a gigantic dam will be constructed across the Rio Grande near Engle, forming a lake forty miles long and storing water for the irrigation of 150,000 acres of land lying in New Mexico, Texas and Old Mexico. Still another great work is the Rio Hondo project, near the city of Roswell, which has been completed at a cost of about $350,000, and which this season supplied water for the irrigation of 12,000 acres of fertile land.

WONDERFUL APPARATUS TO TEST SCHOOL CHILDREN

Ergograph Will Show Whether Too Much Study, Too Much Play, Lack Of Exercise Or Lack Of Food Makes Pupils Dull.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, July 3.—The school authorities of New York have had their attention called to an invention called the ergograph, which is warranted to determine correctly the real cause for a pupil's backwardness in his studies. When the dial of the class remarks casually that two and two make five, the horror-struck teacher need no longer to throw the blackboard at him. Instead he can test him by the ergograph, and find whether over-study or too much play is the cause of the disaster. The new instrument is a German invention and is said to have been tried successfully in the London schools. The glowing reports of its success may lead to its adoption for the schools of New York and other American cities.

According to the description the forearm of the child is clamped to the table that holds the apparatus. Then the hand is secured, only the middle finger being left free. This isolated finger is placed in a little steel box, and the pupil flexes the muscles as long as he can, setting wheels and springs at work, with the result that a suspended weight lifts with each effort. There is an indicator at the back of it, whose marks ascend from five to 200. The child that succeeds in pressing the indicator to the "highest point invariably turns out to be a bright boy in his class."

If Johnny arrives in the morning feeling so fit that he can push the indicator up to 100, and in the evening can get it only half as far, the inference is that Johnny needs less study and more fresh air, or, perhaps, better food and more of it.

It is said that the ergograph does not confine its revelations to children. It is equally efficient in dealing with adults. One of its virtues is that it will show whether the subject is lazy or is really incapable of much physical endurance. The two states are often confounded in schools. The teacher has only to ask the ergograph to answer, and it will decide with illuminating impartiality.

TOMORROW IS TO BE CELEBRATED

THREE GREAT PARADES PROMISED WITH LOTS OF AMUSEMENT.

JANESVILLE AWAKE TO DAY

Arrangements Completed for the Biggest and Best Day's Program Ever Arranged.

Forecast for Janesville and vicinity—Today fair and warmer, with light to fresh easterly winds, shifting to southerly; tomorrow warmer; showers tonight but Thursday fair.

Everything is ready for the great Fourth of July celebration Janesville has ever had. Not since war days when the spirit of Seventy-Six was rampant has so much interest been shown in the day's program as this year. The committees in charge of the subscription lists said they never experienced so little difficulty in obtaining funds and the rest of the committee chairman say they met with ready responses from citizens generally. It promises to be a celebration that will add to Janesville's fame of former years.

Day's Program
Everything for the amusement of the visitors that can be done is being prepared. Three parades, morning, afternoon and evening, are arranged for, a balloon ascension, band concerts and brilliant decorations of streets and private homes. Speaking in the park with band music and all little details arranged to make the day an event long to be remembered. The crowds that will come from away continue to grow in magnitude.

Interest Shown
Flattering press notices of the coming celebration have appeared in every paper in the county, in Brodhead, Monroe, Darlington and Mineral Point papers. The Beloit papers have devoted columns to exploiting Janesville's big show and even Rockford has given as much space to it. The Milwaukee Sentinel says the show this year will be bigger, better and grander than ever, in a column story illustrated by two cuts, this morning. The Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee Journal and Milwaukee News have all had flattering notices and the Free Press several extended descriptions of the proposed gala day.

In Chicago
Chicago papers have also noted the celebration and the North-Western railroad have named Janesville as one of the places to spend the Fourth with a special rate of a fare and a third. Bills have announced the coming attractions on every fence in Rock county and even over into Green, Jefferson, Walworth and Dane counties. If Janesville does not have a banner crowd it will be because the weather man is to be censured and according to his promise this morning he will give us a warm pleasant day.

The Morning Parade
The morning parade promises to be exceptionally interesting. The line of march is as follows: The procession will form on Dodge street, from there it will proceed to Pleasant street, on Pleasant to Milwaukee, down Milwaukee to Main, down Main to Court street, on Court to Court, up Court to Bluff, on Bluff to Prospect avenue, down Prospect avenue to North Main; and on Main street to the park and disband.

Speaking in Park
Immediately after the morning parade comes the regular fourth of July speaking in the Court House park. The Imperial band will furnish the inspiring music. Father James McGinley of St. Patrick's church will offer the prayer. Miss Amy Woodruff will read the Declaration of Independence that was signed one hundred and thirty-one years ago in Philadelphia, while the waiting crowds outside the old Continental Congress hall wondered if they dared do it—the declaration that King George could read in his palace in England announcing to him the thirteen colonies were forever free and independent from his governance. Then Rev. J. W. Laughlin will deliver the fourth of July oration. Noon hour follows.

The Nonesuch Bros.
Promptly at one-thirty the afternoon parade will assemble at the Fair grounds. Col. Nutt wants every exhibitor there at that time. Then the procession—two miles long, bigger, better, larger, and with more floats and entirely new features—will follow west on Milwaukee avenue to Milwaukee street and then to Main street, going south to Court street; then west over the lower bridge and on Pleasant street to River street; then north on River street to Milwaukee street; then west to Marion street; then to Wall and east to High and south to Milwaukee street; then east to Main street and north to Prospect avenue to Bluff street; then south as far as Court street; then west to Main and south to Racine and counter-march to North Main street.

The Evening

In the evening the streets are to be brilliantly illuminated for the occasion.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion. It is blood—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sick, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

sion. The automobile parade will assemble at 7:30 at the north end of Milton avenue. The parade will start at 8 P. M. sharp. The speed rate will be ten miles an hour. The instructions to the auto-owners are to listen for the signals. One blast, stop; two blasts, forward; and each machine will repeat the signals to avoid accidents. There will be a space of a hundred feet between each car. It will be a fine display and well worth seeing. Then there are two band concerts—one by the Imperial Band and one by the Beloit band. Red fire and other attractions will complete the day's program. It is one that will be hard to beat.

PLANTING SEASON OF TOBACCO IS RUSHED

Is in Full Swing Throughout the State—Good Crops Are Being Put in.

The tobacco planting season is under full swing throughout the state and growers everywhere are putting in long hours endeavoring to complete this work at an early date as possible, says the Edgerton Reporter. The weather conditions continue favorable for a rapid growth of the plant buds which are now crowding the field work. Growers of small acreage are generally well advanced with their transplanting, many having already finished. The close of the year will see fully half the crop safely in the fields and much of it well starting to grow. So far an excellent stand has been secured and we hear of but few complaints of cut worms. More tobacco, however, will be transplanted in July this season than for some years past.

The cured leaf markets contain but little news worth mentioning. The trade being confined to small lots to manufacturers. H. T. Sweeney purchased a 30-case lot of '06 from first hands this week at 12 cents assorted. He also disposed of 1000s of '05 to eastern parties. There is some trading among packers in low grade goods, but there is a general complaint of a dull market.

The shipments out of storage reach 7000s for this market to all points for the week past.

WEEKLY CLUB-DAY
AT GOLF GROUNDS

Large Turnout at the Links Yesterday—Frank Fifield Captured the Burnham Special Prize.

The weekly club-day festivities at the golf links attracted an unusually large number of players and visitors yesterday, and a large number of the matches for the Wilson Lane cup and Valentine medal were played off. Frank Fifield won the handsome trophy hung up by A. P. Burnham for the lowest average net score in four matched games and Mrs. Francis Grant was first in the ladies' putting contest. Chief Lynch served a delicious supper to over fifty in the evening and a goodly number remained for the dance, for which Carter & Benkert's orchestra played.

FOURTH FIRE AT NEW DOTY PLANT

Did $1,000 Damage to Foundry Roof Last Evening—Pearl Button Factory Blaze.

A blaze which started in the rafters and woodwork of the New Doty Co.'s foundry on North Main street last evening called into requisition, for the fourth time within a very few months, the services of the fire department. The alarm was sent in at 10:40 p. m. by Stanley Day, who made the discovery while playing ball in the street. The fire was spreading to the machine shop on the south when the department arrived, a few moments later, but Chief Klein and his men soon had the flames well under control with four powerful streams of water. The estimated damage was about $1,000 and it is fully covered by insurance. It is believed that sparks from the molten iron started the fire.

Fire at Pearl-Button Factory
Not long after the call to the New Doty plant the fire department was summoned to Spring Brook to attend to a small blaze which had started in the rear of the old pearl button factory building. The men at the Spring Brook station responded with alacrity to the second direct call they have had since the engine house was built and the incipient fire was soon checked. It is stated that the damage was only nominal.

He was a graduate of Trinity college in 1875 and afterwards studied law, being admitted to the bar in 1875. He soon gained a lucrative practice and entered politics, in which he was immediately successful. He served one term in congress from 1887 until 1889. He was next made an internal revenue collector and held this post from 1890 until 1896. His position in the public eye had grown so that in 1901 he was elected to the senate with little or no opposition.

MILTON COLLEGE

W. P. CLARK'S COLLECTION OF PREHISTORIC STONE.

IS VERY RARE INDEED

Is Placed Where It Can Be Preserved Carefully for Future Generations.

Willis P. Clark of Milton, a prominent member of the Wisconsin Archaeological society, has just deposited in Milton college stone and metal implements, assembled by himself during a lifetime of the state. Clark's generosity deserves the appreciation of all students of Wisconsin archaeology and of all persons of culture, and the example of public spirit which he has thus set should be followed by others who have it in their power to spread the interest in the educational value of the state's aboriginal heirlooms, and aid deserving educational institutions by similar or less valuable gifts. The sale of such specimens to dealers in Indian relics or other commercially inclined persons should be frowned upon by all intelligent citizens. Many of the finest mounds in the Lake Koshkonong region have been hopelessly wrecked by spoils hunters, an unpardonable crime deserving of severe punishment. We look to those who have such monuments on their property to do everything possible to protect them against vandals and curious seekers, and if their destruction cannot be avoided to see to it that they are intelligently investigated by persons having a knowledge of the proper methods. By this means the results should be preserved to the people of the state.

Through the interest of Dr. Geo. L. Collie and the generosity of Frank G. Logan and others interested in its welfare, a very valuable collection representing the arts and activities of Wisconsin's earliest inhabitants has been assembled at Beloit college, and from this thousands of future citizens of Wisconsin will benefit. Rock county citizens may point to this collection with pride, and all should be interested in adding to its treasures. Many other educational institutions throughout Wisconsin have been less fortunate and are at present without, or but meagerly supplied with the collections of this nature. These individuals are now endeavoring to aid. The existing meagre collections at Lawrence university, Ripon college, St. Francis seminary, Carroll college and other state educational institutions should be greatly increased. Wealthy patrons of the society can confer a favor upon future generations of students by purchasing and presenting to them some of the many collections of value now in private hands, and at present in danger of dissipation. Every citizen of the state should take an interest in the growth of the archaeological collections of the great State Historical Museum at Madison. Small gifts such as an axe or spear-point, an ornament or a copper implement to any of these institutions, will be always be appreciated. All specimens should be accompanied by full data. In many cases smaller institutions, such as for instance as the fine public library at Janesville, small collections may be assembled with profit to local students and the public. A single small case of such specimens will interest hundreds of visitors. Every citizen of the state should possess a slight knowledge, at least, of its aboriginal memorials and their significance. Many do not realize that the region in which we live is celebrated the world over among scientists for its effigy and linear mounds, for its stratified stone axes and its copper implements of many classes and types. We pass by these without realizing their interest or educational value.

The Wisconsin Archaeological society, with nearly 300 members located in every part of the state, is now the greatest and most active organization of its kind in the United States. Since its incorporation in 1902, this society has accomplished wonders in the direction of encouraging the permanent preservation and intelligent appreciation of Wisconsin's antiquities. Leading citizens everywhere are enrolled among its members, and actively aiding it in its labors. Surveys are being made and explorations are progressing under its direction in many sections of the state and the information thus assembled is being published in bulletin form, and widely circulated. These publications are all finely illustrated and are eagerly welcomed by thousands of students and others. Anyone who desires a knowledge of the state's prehistory or who appreciates the need and value of the preservation of its ancient monuments, is eligible to membership in the state society. Each year, the society holds field assemblies in several parts of the state. The first of those of the present year has just been convened at Beloit college and was a noteworthy success, a second will be held at Green Bay, or at Milwaukee, its present headquarters, in the fall. During these assemblies excursions are frequently made to surrounding points of interest, and the speakers are the most prominent that can be secured. It is now purchasing and will preserve in a state park, the celebrated man mound, near Baraboo, the most remarkable emblematic earthwork in our state. If its plans are successful other notable groups of Indian mounds in other parts of Wisconsin will in the future be acquired and set aside in a similar manner for the public. Through its urging a fine group of mounds in the State Fair park at West Allis has been preserved from destruction, and several other interesting groups of earthworks elsewhere. Frederick Pabst has just offered to cooperate with the society in the preservation of a fine group of effigy mounds located near Oconomowoc, and the Milwaukee Electric railway is considering the protection of others along its lines.

EARTH QUAKES IN EUROPE.

Seismic Disturbances Are Felt in Italy and England.

Wallasey, Eng., July 3.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at noon Tuesday. No damage was done.

Tennessee Town Burning Up.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 3.—A telephone message from Whitwell, Tenn., Tuesday night said: "Fire which started in the store of the Whitwell Mercantile company shortly before midnight is still raging and the entire town is threatened. The Bank of Whitwell has been destroyed and the post office and all the main business houses are directly in the path of the flames. There is little chance to stop the fire as the only means of fighting is with buckets."

TWO ECLIPSES ARE TO APPEAR IN JULY

Janesville May Witness One on the Evening of July 24.

There is nothing of greater interest during the good old summer time than the hours and days on which the moon may be expected to flood the earth with its reflected radiance. At least this rule applies to the embryo romances and Juliet. To them, therefore, this table of the moon's phases is given:

Last quarter—July 2, 8:24 a. m.

New Moon—July 10, 9:17 a. m.

First quarter—July 18, 7:12 a. m.

Full moon—July 24, 10:30 p. m.

Last quarter—July 31, 8:25 a. m.

Only fishermen and real out door sports care when the sun rises and sets but there are enough of them around this town to make the printing of this worth while:

Sunrise.

FAST AND FURIOUS

The Subscriptions Are Being Gathered Together

As a Result of the Offer of Extra Votes.

EXCELLENT CHANCE FOR LATE STARTERS

Miss Anna Engelbretson Takes First Place in the Ladies' List Today—The Most Noticeable Change in the Gentlemen's List Today Is the Rapid Climb of Thomas Heffernan, Who Is Now Second—The Third District Still Leads in the Voting.

Every candidate in the race seems to have taken it as their duty to make as good a showing as possible this week and are going after subscriptions in an unparalleled pace.

Pitch right at an unpromising place. To win out and give the one who does win the contest of their career. Nothing is ever gained by laying back and letting some one else pick up the prizes of life. Nothing like this offer will ever be given in Janesville again, very probably, and the opportunity of winning such prizes should be grasped immediately and striven for earnestly.

Of course it is impossible to predict the outcome of the contest at the present, as the records now do not necessarily indicate future standing and success in winning. The subscriptions are coming in more rapidly every day and the number of votes which are going out as reserves greatly exceeds the number of votes which are being cast. Despite this fact, the daily increase in the contestants is noticeable, and the people all over Janesville and vicinity are watching with eagerness the outcome of the race. It is a good idea to poll a few votes from day to day to let the people see you are in earnest in the matter and really desire one of The Daily Gazette's prizes.

CAUGHT MAKING "QUEER" COIN.

Missouri Man Arrested in Albuquerque—Eggs to Be Shot.

Albuquerque, N. M., July 2.—A man giving the name of G. U. Hall and claiming to be from St. Joseph, Mo., but recently a practicing physician at Lennox, Ia., was arrested here Tuesday while in the very act. It is charged, of making counterfeit money. After a long watch the officers located the counterfeit in a room in the Southern hotel. One officer boosted another up to the transom of a locked door and the counterfeiter was covered with a six-shooter. He unlocked the door and surrendered. In the room was a complete counterfeiting outfit for manufacturing dollar coins, with some 20 counterfeit dollars scattered about the floor.

Hall, who has a wife and daughter in Little Falls, Wash., begged the police to shoot him, as he feared the police would kill his family.

MUCH TYPHOID IN PITTSBURG.

New Cases in June Numbered 498—Water Supply Is Blamed.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—The epidemic of typhoid fever in this city, which was not expected to increase to any alarming extent until late this month, is gradually assuming serious proportions, and the health authorities are puzzled at the many cases recorded during June. In that period there were 498 new cases.

Dr. Jas. F. Edwards, superintendent of the health bureau, said Tuesday that on account of the cases being scattered throughout the city, he believed the increase to be due to the poor water supply. Supt. Edwards says that many of the foreigners who have contracted the disease here within the last few weeks were discovered to be recent arrivals and were ready victims to the germ.

Contests Prohibition Victory. East Liverpool, O., July 3.—The recent election, held under the local law, by which this city went "dry" by nearly 300 majority, is to be contested in court. Ambrose E. Webber, a brewer's agent, filed a petition in the probate court at Lisbon Tuesday claiming the election is invalid. The petition alleges the notice and papers were not prepared according to the law.

Mrs. Annie Clarke, Columbus, Dies. Columbus, O., July 3.—Mrs. Annie W. Clarke, for ten years state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, died Tuesday morning of pneumonia.

Tragic Nine of Diamonds. Carefully preserved at Stairs castle, the Aberdeenshire seat of the earl of Erroll, is a single playing card which recalls a never to be forgotten tragedy. It is the nine of diamonds (hence called to this day "the curse of Cumberland"), on which, the duke of Cumberland wrote his order for the butchery of the brave Highlanders who were taken prisoners at the fatal battle of Culloden.

GUARDING HIS OWN PROPERTY.
Jackson's Method of Dealing with Avaricious Merchant.
"Here," said the Virginia veteran, "is another Jackson yarn."
"Jackson used bales of cotton in the ramparts that he threw up in defense of New Orleans and it was naturally a matter of indifference to him whose cotton he employed. Some of it happened to belong to a rich merchant."
"The merchant followed his bales with doglike devotion. He could not bear to tear himself away from them. He was standing over them when Jackson happened to draw near and running up to the chief, he said:
"Monsieur, it is damage for your men to take my cotton. All property is sacred and must be protected."
"But," said Jackson, "are you sure this is your cotton?"
"Oh, sure! Most sure," said the merchant. "I know the marks, all of them. Et puis, alors, this cotton, sir, must be defended."
"Jackson turned to a private and told him to fetch a musket at once. The musket being brought, the general laid it in the merchant's arms and said, with a grim smile:
"My friend, you are the most proper person I know of to defend your own property. Stay here, then, and do so. Stir at your peril!"—Detroit Free Press.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM OF WIND, HAIL AND RAIN.
Crops Destroyed, Trees Blown Down, Glass Broken.
Some portions of Rock county were yesterday afternoon visited by a fearful storm of wind, hail and rain, which caused great destruction of property in some localities. It burst upon this city in great fury about half past five o'clock, the water falling in sheets, and the wind with almost irresistible force, sweeping everything before it. Awnings and signs were its playthings, trees swayed like grass and many in various localities were twisted off or torn up by the roots, and the show windows on the South Side of West Milwaukee street were blown entirely in, and to add to the excitement the rain poured down in floods. At the store of Britton & Harrison the gutters were unable to carry off the water and floated off the covering to the street, when the water rushed down into the building in torrents, doing damage to the building and stock. The foundation of Myers' new block was badly washed and sustained considerable damage. Sol. Hutson lost several rods of picket fence, and we have no doubt scores of others have in various ways sustained injury. Fortunately no hail fell. In the towns of La Prairie and Rock it is reported that numerous crops were completely washed out and it is probable that great damage was done in other districts.
CREMATED HER HUSBAND
LITHUANIAN WOMAN CONFESSES TO A HORRIBLE CRIME.
Tells Police of Scranton, Pa., That Deed Was Suggested by Her Lover.
Scranton, Pa., July 3.—Mrs. Kintra Howrsto, aged 18 years, of Dunmore, is in the county jail, charged with having burned her husband to death that she might be free to marry her former lover, Ignatz Hutro, who is also in jail, charged with being an accessory. The police officials say that Mrs. Howrsto has confessed and given all the details of the crime.
All the parties are Lithuanians. According to the story told the police by Mrs. Howrsto, she and Hutro were lovers before she married Howrsto in the old country, two years ago. Hutro preceded them to this country. When they came here, they settled near where Hutro was living in the Nay Aug section of Dunmore borough. Hutro renewed his attentions to Mrs. Howrsto, and frequently was at their home. According to her confession, Hutro came to the Howrsto home on Monday and suggested that she do away with her husband, so that they could be married.
Following Hutro's suggestion the woman got her husband drunk, and when he was stupefied in bed, she went to the room with the kerosene lamp. She poured the oil from the lamp on the bed and then, she said, the lamp dropped on the bed, setting it afire. At the sight of her husband roasting in the flaming bed, she became horror-stricken and rushed from the house, crying "Fire." Neighbors extinguished the flames, and had Howrsto sent to a hospital where he died without regaining consciousness. Hutro denies all knowledge of the crime. Both are being held pending an investigation of the woman's story.

MEXICAN VESSEL ON INLAND WATERWAYS

Ship Built at Pittsburg Was First Flying Foreign Flag to Travel Ohio and Mississippi Waters.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Steamship across the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico is the three-decked, side-wheeler Mexican vessel, the Clara Ramos. There would be nothing extraordinary in this were the Clara Ramos not the first steam vessel flying a foreign flag that ever made a voyage nearly 2,000 miles of an American river. She is on her way to the inland waterways of the Mexican republic. For the first time in history, however, inhabitants of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys were greeted by the fluttering folds of a foreign flag, and it is believed in Washington that the voyage will mark a new era in commercial relations with the rich countries to the south of the United States.

The Mexican vessel was built in Pittsburg and is intended for traffic on Mexican rivers. She dropped down the Ohio river a few days ago, in ballast, and her arrival was heralded in advance at every port along that stream. Such a dipping of flags and other naval salutes never was seen before on the big waterway. Fussy little tugs, hauling acres of coal barges, nearly split their throats with shrill screams of welcome to the flag of Mexico, and the more stately steamers recognized it as warmly, but in a more dignified manner, as became their station.

The appearance of the Clara Ramos was hailed at Cincinnati, where the vessel stopped for a day on its run downstream. The headquarters of the National Rivers & Harbors Congress is situated in that city, and its secretary, Captain J. F. Ellison, was among the first to extend his welcome. His organization has worked for more than a half decade in an effort to arouse the people of the United States to the necessity for improving on congress that $50,000,000 a year is needed to improve adequately the streams of the country. The appearance of a foreign vessel served to prove one of the contentions of the organization—namely, that if the rivers and harbors are properly developed a vast and increasing trade, both foreign and domestic, is certain to follow.

However, the Clara Ramos is not the first foreign vessel that ever sailed the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. In the old days, when sailing vessels carried the commerce of the world in their hulls, a number of vessels were built as far inland as Cincinnati to engage in the ocean-carrying trade. In the Liverpool Times of January 30, 1845, is found the following statement:

We have received a file of Cincinnati papers brought by the first vessel that ever cleared at that port for Europe. The building of a vessel of 350 tons—the Muskingum—on a river, 1,700 miles from the sea is, in itself, a very remarkable circumstance both as a proof of the magnificence of the American rivers and the spirit of the American people. The navigating of such a vessel down the Ohio and the Mississippi and then across the Atlantic would a few years ago have been thought impossible. She brings a cargo of provisions, and we trust that the success of this first venture will be such as to encourage its frequent repetition.

In the opinion of the National Rivers & Harbors Congress, the day is not far distant when the farmers and manufacturers of the interior of the United States will be able to load their products and wares in vessels at their very doors for export to foreign lands. All that is needed are properly developed rivers and harbors to admit vessels of suitable size. Once such a fleet is established, it is declared, the middle west would make certain its title as the "richest agricultural empire ever tilled by man."

Mechanicsburg Centennial
Mechanicsburg, Pa., July 3.—The elaborate preparations for Mechanicsburg's centennial celebration were completed last evening. The celebration began at sunrise this morning with a salute of 100 guns and the ringing of bells. During the morning there were athletic sports and speech-making, with an industrial parade this afternoon over the principal thoroughfares of the city. Tonight there will be a carnival and band concerts, with a general illumination of the city. The military, civic and firemen's parade will be held tomorrow, the celebration to conclude with a fine display of fireworks.

THE TOO FRANK PERSON.

Some Plain Truths as Set Forth by a Woman Writer.

We all know—and respect—and avoid—such persons; the world is full of them—too full for the general comfort of its other inhabitants. And frequently what they call the truth is not abstract at all, but is merely the expression of their own particular (and frequently erroneous) opinions. Yet, as they utter it they glow with spiritual pride and feel themselves in the same boat as the Christians of the Catacombs and the rest of the noble army of martyrs; never realizing that their cause is no tenet of an inspired creed, but merely an embodiment of their own pet prejudices; and their sacrifices on its behalf is neither their own life nor wealth, but merely the feelings and the sentiments of other people, says Woman's Life. Such persons are very fond of remarking that they owe it to themselves to say exactly what they think; it never seems to occur to them that they likewise owe it to others to conceal what they think, if such thoughts be inimical to the general pleasantness and well being of society at large; yet surely they have never been taught that their duty to themselves comes before their duty to their neighbors.

ANNUAL HENLEY REGATTA OPENED ON THAMES RIVER

For the First Time in History England Will Not Defend Grand Challenge Cup But Will Seek to Regain it.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, July 3.—The annual Henley regatta opened today. No college eight from the opposite side of the water figures this year in the English aquatic derby. The only foreign entries, in fact, are one Belgian and one German crew. Nevertheless a lively interest is manifested in the regatta owing to the fact that for the first time in its history England will fight to recover the famous Grand Challenge Cup instead of to defend it. The Belgian crew are the present holders of the coveted trophy. Although the Diamond Sculls have been won by a Dutchman, an American, and a Canadian, the Grand Challenge Cup never left England until last year. In view of the world-wide attention always given to Henley week it is interesting to recall how insignificant was the beginning of the great Thames festival. Although as early as 1829 the rival university crews of Oxford and Cambridge met on what is now the Henley course, it was not until 1859 that the actual regatta was organized. In that year the inhabitants of Henley formed a committee and decided to offer a silver cup valued at $500 as the "Henley Regatta Grand Challenge Cup," to be rowed for annually by amateur crews in eight-oared boats. The "Town Challenge Cup" and medals for the winners were also offered for crews of four. The first regatta was held on June 24, 1859, and was notable for a great struggle between Oxford and Cambridge for the Grand Challenge Cup, the prize eventually falling to Trinity, of the latter university. This was the humble beginning of what was destined to become the biggest and most fashionable aquatic meeting in the world.

North Pacific Regatta.
Seattle, Wash., June 3.—The annual regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, to be rowed over the Lake Washington course tomorrow, with the preliminary events today, promise to be the most notable aquatic event that have ever taken place in the Northwest. The craft boat clubs of Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, Nelson and Victoria have sent their crews to contest for the handsome trophies that have been hung up for the several events that make up the program.

Elijah No Vegetarian.

Many vegetarians fall back on the bible for comfort, and it is even said that the great prophet Elijah was a vegetarian. How so? God commanded the crows to feed the old fellow, and we have it in I Kings, xviii, 6—"the ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning and bread and flesh in the evening; and he drank of the brook."—New York Press.

As a preliminary there was held today the fourth annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Amateur Press Association. The president of the national association is William C. Ahlhauser of Milwaukee. Among other prominent members who are to take part in the meeting are A. H. Hamilton, of Virginia, president of the Southern Amateur Press association; I. E. ## HOMECOMING MAKES CLINTONITES BUSY

Final Preparations Being Made—Annual School Meeting Held—Tuesday Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, Wis., July 3.—The annual school meeting was held in the high school building last evening. Solon Cooper was elected school director for a full term of three years. The reports of the school officers showed the school to be in a very prosperous condition.

Home-comers are arriving by every train and the advance guard is already a large one and they find Clinton ready to receive them with open arms. The several committees are putting finishing touches on their several duties. If the weather proves agreeable Clinton will have the largest time of its history.

Help of every kind is very scarce in Clinton. There is not an idle man, woman or child, and all lines of business feel the stringency in labor. Contractor Daniels has had to import all of the men he is employing on the new houses being erected in Highland park.

Frank Able has improved his East Main street building very much by leaving out the old wooden awning, laying cement walk entire width of the sidewalk and freshly painting the building.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Spalding have purchased C. C. Smith's lot, corner Highland Park avenue and West Milwaukee street, and expect to build a beautiful home thereon and move to town and enjoy life.

Dr. Jones is putting finishing touches on his new home by painting and laying cement walk and finishing his beautiful piazza.

"When universal peace is finally established," said Alfred H. Love, the president of the Universal Peace union, in an interview in Philadelphia, "then many a man who now ridicules the peace movement will claim to have been its lifelong champion. It is always so. We thump and kick a poor, weak, struggling movement at its inception, and when it has succeeded and no longer needs our help, we give it the most solicitous support. There was once a young lady whose betrothed, a very poor young man was about to set out for South America to seek his fortune in the rubber trade. As he took his leave of her the night before his departure, he said, tremulously: 'And you swear to be true to me, Irene?' 'Yes, Heber,' cried the girl, 'yes—if you're successful.'"
